

GAME DESCRIPTION

We offer the Baccarat game with six decks of cards.

The object of Baccarat is to obtain a hand with a point total closest to 9. Aces count as one; 2 through 9 as their face value; tens and face cards count as zero.

Place your wager on one or more of the following betting positions: the Banker, the Player and/or the Tie. The Player and the Banker are then each dealt a two-card hand in the following order: first card to the Player, second card to the Banker, third card the Player, fourth card to the Banker. In certain cases, a third card is dealt to the Player and/or the Banker. The hand closest to 9, wins.

Payouts to the player in Baccarat depend on the types of bets:

The main bet on Player: all winning bets on the player's hand are paid according to the ratio of 1 to 1.

The main bet on Banker: all winning bets on the banker's hand are paid according to the ratio of 1 to 1 minus the 5% fee.

The main bet on Tie: all winning bets on tie is paid according to the ratio of 8:1.

Side bet is a bet that you can make besides the main bets on the Player, Banker, or Tie.

The side bet on Player's Pair wins and is paid according to the paytable (11:1), if the first two cards received by the Player have the same numerical value, for example 5 of Spades and 5 of Diamonds.

The side bet on Banker's Pair wins and is paid according to the paytable (11:1), if the first two cards received by the Banker have the same numerical value, for example 5 of Spades and 5 of Diamonds.

The side bet on Either Pair wins and is paid according to the paytable (5:1), if the first two cards on the side of the Banker or the Player (or both) form any pair on that hand.

The side bet on Perfect Pair wins and is paid according to the paytable (25:1), if the first two cards received by the Player or the Banker are identical, when both the suit and the numerical value match, for example a pair of 7 of Diamonds.

The side bet on Big wins and is paid according to the paytable (0.54:1), if the total number of cards dealt to the Player and the Banker is 5 or more.

The side bet on Small wins and is paid according to the paytable (1.5:1), if the total number of cards dealt to the Player and the Banker is 4.

Side bets are not related to the main game bets.
