

GAME DESCRIPTION

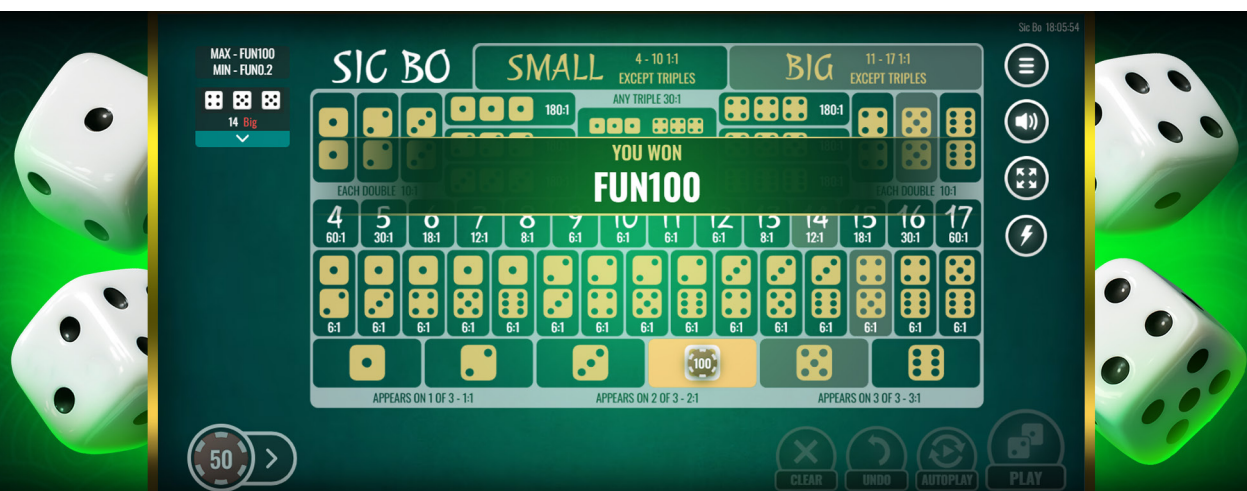

Welcome to Sic Bo by Platipus — a timeless game of fate, whispered through centuries and reborn for a new generation!

Long before modern tables and digital lights, Sic Bo was played in ancient China, a game of fortune said to captivate emperors and those who believed destiny could be tempted, but never controlled.

At its heart are three dice and a simple idea: make your choice and let fate speak. Each round invites you to place your bets before the dice are rolled, predicting specific numbers, combinations, or total sums. Will the total fall small or big? Will matching numbers appear, or will a rare triple reveal itself? The options are many, the rhythm is calm, and the tension builds naturally with every roll.

There's no rush, no pressure — just the quiet pull of possibility. As the dice settle, results unfold, and winnings are paid instantly according to the payout table. Easy to learn, satisfying to master, Sic Bo reveals its depth over time!

Enter with curiosity, stay for the rhythm, and discover how quietly addictive true chance can be!
